14. RIO DE JANEIRO SIGHTSEEING

PÃO DE AÇUCAR

In 1912, the launch of an aerial tramway system in Rio de Janeiro added to the Brazilian tourist map an enterprise that would become famous worldwide: the Sugarloaf Cable Car. Today, the view of the constant come and go of the bondinhos is a part of the city's land-scape.

The Sugarloaf tourist complex was built by the Companhia Caminho Aéreo Pão de Açúcar, which still operates and maintains it. Designed to entertain thousands of people at a privileged location, the park is blessed by its panoramic beauty.

The Sugarloaf mountain, a trademark of Rio de Janeiro, has very little vegetation on its slopes. It consists in a single massive block of granite-derived stone, molded by atmospheric pressure and temperature along its 600 million years of age.

CONCORVADO

It is impossible to imagine a trip to Rio de Janeiro without visiting Cristo Redentor. Located on top of Corcovado's Mount, the monument is the best-known Brazilian image, famous all over the world. Every year, more than six hundred thousand people are taken to Christ the Redeemer's statue through the almost hundred-year-old Corcovado's Railway, the oldest tourist excursion in the country

COPACABANA

Copacabana is an upscale neighborhood located in the south of the city of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. It is considered one of the most famous and prestigious neighborhoods in Brazil and one of the best known in the world. It has the nickname Princess of the Sea of the South Zone and heart. It borders the neighborhoods also noble da Lagoa, Ipanema, Botafogo and Rudder. Copacabana attracts a large number of tourists to its more than eighty hotels, which are especially full during times of New Year and Carnival. At year end, the traditional fireworks display at Copacabana Beach attracts a crowd of people. The beach is considered the most famous and known the world has about length of 6km, and beach you can see the Sugar Loaf and Morro do Leme, both rock mountains and green slopes.
